

EXTRA- TERRESTRIAL INTELLIGENCE

The Compendium of Thought

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – Introduction

As we explore the different ways that that intelligence is expressed based on the genetic template of each species of being, we're going to build a compendium of thought which helps us to understand that not only are there vast minds in the universe, but that the extra-terrestrials in some places are not so different to humans and in others completely foreign so much so that you will feel as if you are listening to another language. The rapid translation of extra-terrestrial intelligence, the languages into text type, words, at times will be a little cumbersome. Bear with the expression of the words as best you can because this language is not common tongue.

The communication from each group will come from an entity within that clan or species or community that is articulate enough in languages that it can make the information intelligible. This would indicate that the speakers we engage in extra-terrestrial intelligence are educated in so far as they know of a broader reality than their own. As mentioned, the intelligences in some part will be relatively similar to humans who also think they are alone in the universe, for the most part.

These extra-terrestrial intelligences, when they speak, if they are able to, they will bring their presence with them so that as you read or hear the words you are able to feel with the knowingness the distinct understanding of who they are. They cannot do that without your help and all they request is an open mind and an open heart. Some of these entities will already be on the earth and engaged with its activities. Others will be nowhere near it and most likely unaware of it.

The definition of the term extra-terrestrial intelligence is relevant. Extra-terrestrial means any entity that is not of earth, humans. Intelligence means that they are entities with intelligence, they are not species or beings that are off the earth plane but hold very little intelligence. Intelligence by definition means to have intellect, knowledge, wisdom, experience and understanding. If we take this as our definition, then the entities coming forth to speak and to be part of the extra-terrestrial intelligence, are indeed intelligent. This will filter out numerous other extra-terrestrials that would clutter the words and narrow our great understanding that this information will bring of great races of extra-terrestrials, and a few in between.

So, without further ado, let's go meet our first ambassador for extra-terrestrial intelligence.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – Pleiadians

We are the Pleiadians and we communicate with you easily. Many of us are already on the earth. When we are on the earth, we retain an etheric form. Some of us have chosen to integrate more closely with earth people and when we do this, we become very recognisable to them. Some of them call us their guides but mostly are very clear that we are Pleiadians and we have come to assist. Our way of assisting is to make clear conscious choices towards benevolence and kindness to all species. Those that we meet in person will often see us clearly in their minds eye, and less clearly but obviously in the peripheral. When they see us in their minds eye we are grouped together. They will see a bunch of us because this is how we travel in that bunch when it is observed.

We have already earmarked the time at which we will communicate with different people on your earth planet and they are known to us from birth. The moment when we appear to them, we first meet them in their dreams, and some will think of us as angels in that space. Soon after as they learn to feel the great love that we have for humanity and this builds a sense of trust with us in their dreams, we will start to reveal that we are extra-terrestrial. When the entity is exposed to that in their dreams, sometimes they are shocked and retreat. Not because we are affronting in image, but because their mind is not ready to accept extra-terrestrial intelligence. We are patient because we have closely chosen these people.

Gradually they will start to appreciate our presence because in conjunction with meeting them in their dreams, they will start to get a sense that we are around, even if they do not know that we are something. What they will feel is this great peace and love around them. They may start to call us guides at that point because of this feeling. Gradually as the individual opens their mind a little more, we will be able to reveal ourselves to them and they will meet in their dreams one of us who will start to communicate softly and gently in peaceful words of harmony and love, and subtle suggestions as to how we can work with them to help the planet.

Once this has happened and the entity is accepting of it, we will stay with them for the rest of their life. They have free will of course to ask us to leave, which we can do, but because we have earmarked them specifically, and literally earmarked, we have made a careful selection. In part because those entities, we have observed our presence with them in the future and they are accepting of our ideas and the way that it supports humanity and the planet. The human will feel more love and more peace as a result of being in close communication with us. They may go on to tell others about us or they may keep the presence of our intelligence carefully with them so that they can communicate more clearly directly with us. This is designed because each entity that communicates with the human has a specific role. Some are speakers and some are inventors, and some are peacemakers, so depending on which one of us starts to build the communication, it will be clear to the human individual how we then work with them.

The reason we know who these human people are - the earmarking - is because there is something distinguishable in their genetics that is very similar to ours, so in a way, we are choosing our brothers and sisters to come and support us in supporting the earth and its inhabitants. We bring only peace and love and harmony and all whose lives we touch radiate this in increments, depending on how quickly they allow it to integrate. We are loved by all. We do not fight, we stand for peace and because of our etheric nature and the harmonic tones of our thoughts like a sweet sound in the universe, we are rarely targeted. And if we are, we have taught ourselves to disappear. This is our only defence and it has worked very well for us for a very long time.

We are common to your people because we love you. We have an affinity with the water on your planet because the entities that reside there have more of our DNA in them - the dolphins and the humanoid creatures that still live under the sea. We perform similar tasks, as such is described, on other places. There are many of us like emissaries scattered around the solar system and the galaxy. This is enough for now. Because you have read this, even though we may not have earmarked you specifically to work with us or for us to work with you, you may invite us into your dream space one night and you will perceive who we are. This is your invitation and all it takes is your acceptance of what you have read that will bring us to you.

Extra-terrestrial intelligence - Elven Kind

Sometimes we are termed elves or Elven kind. We are a race of beings that have lived on the earth for millions of years. The term Elven kind is the descendants of the original race of beings that came to the earth and inhabited this planet long before it was known to be earth. We have a long history with the earth as you term it, and our love for the planet is one of the reasons why we remain here and are so prevalent in the consciousness of all the inhabitants that are on the earth. Our presence of course is represented in many folklore, science fiction, fantasy novels and films, and it would lead you to ask perhaps - who is seeding that consciousness and how is it that we are so familiar to you?

We have been here a long time. We are in some way your predecessors and also you will in some way become like us - for some of you - because you hold more of the DNA of us within you: those little pointy ears here and there, a tell-tale sign. But more of us is what we know. We have a very, very, astute mind and the astuteness of this mind is that it holds long memories. We have such memory that we don't forget anything. Our lives are very long and as we pass from life to life our memories are passed to our kin so the knowledge of who we are is retained always and forever through our entire species. In this way we know everything about you including your shortcomings, your evolution through time, who came and who went, and for many of us we have the gift of foresight or the tools to offer us foresight, so we see indeed where you are going.

We are beautiful in form, like you only more exquisite as you have seen represented in countless films. Are we exactly as they show us to be? Very close, perhaps the skin is a little more translucent and the body a bit more elongated in limbs and fingers than it is shown in your film sets - but of course they used a human and just created that into an Elven kind. The beauty of our race is - one of our endearing features to ourselves because we created it as such - we embody in a physical body the closest to the etheric that we could possibly form. We took the life beauty of light waves and long thought and clear eyes, and we made it into a beautiful form which is why we move with such grace and agility and speed because we move more like life. Our minds are all connected when we choose. We are taught to surrender our thoughts and also to control our thoughts and, in this way, it means that all is known between us. But we still have the individual intact, and that is where we learn to control our thoughts.

We can share everything. We have a certain hierarchy based on the memory of what it was like when there was no hierarchy. We elected to create councils, leaders of sorts, to assist with the ongoing management and social structure of our race across many locations, remembering everything that went on before that when there was not this structure. That means therefore we fear none of the structure because we have the same memories of what it was before. We know therefore having higher council to guide and to assist and to make decisions that assist all of us and our interactions with the other entities on the earth and beyond, is key. But the beauty of it, in difference to how it is your structures and your systems of hierarchy and leadership go, is that we trust our leaders. We trust them implicitly because they are one with us. That graceful presence that we hold, that beautiful radiating love, links each of us to each other including those leaders.

We do not have religion or religious leaders as you hold in your reality because there is no need to teach us of religion for our ways are in alignment with the nature of all things, the nature of God and the natural laws of reality. We work in harmony with the planet, not against it, and therefore it respects us and supports us in return. We give to it energetically as much as we receive from it. It is through our collective energy that many spaces on your planet continue to thrive with abundant life and beauty. Your pictures in the films tell true tales of green glens and forests tucked away, and waterfalls. This is of course where we live because it is where we give our energy to the earth and all those pockets of life, and the reason you don't see us is of course because we slip through veils of reality unseen by humans – ever. And if you did see us you wouldn't recognise us anyway.

Will there be a time when we reveal to you who we are? Much will change before then. And what is more likely is that those of you who hold more DNA, more markers that are akin to us, will start to build your own connections and will visit us in mind rather than in form. You will see us in your dreams and your visions, and you will know you are traversing reality with us more than the probability that you will bump into us in a physical sense because we are only physical to ourselves and less to you. Remember the description - when we are portrayed in film, they have to use a human to play our part. But we are more light than that and so beautiful that of course you would love to see us which is why we will visit in your dreams and you will recognise our kind through the eyes, through the shape of the ears and that translucent beauty.

Because we have lived here for so long, we know that we will live here longer and we need not for your approval or disapproval, recognition or ignorance. We will always be here because this is our home. And you thought it was your planet. We seeded the planet from a far, far, place and that place is no longer there so this is where we live for our forever tucked in those hills and mountains and beautiful valleys behind the waterfalls. And realms of majestic beauty that you see a facade of when you walk past those places where nature sings to your heart and you feel like the elves are there just beyond. You can communicate with us in those places where you feel like we are there. You can sit and communicate with us and we will share pictures, but we won't help you per se.

We are here and we will make sure our planet survives, and it does. So, we fight for ourselves not for you. We watch and observe you and love you of course because it is not in our nature to be anything other than that, but we don't really care for you. This is consistent with your films as well. Those of you that write about us - we have seeded that thought into your consciousness so that you may always know that there are beautiful beings just like you but a little bit different, and that there is DNA in many of you just like us, mixed in amongst your human self. If you want to, you can turn on more of that DNA, you can turn that on inside of you and things will change for you. Your sight will change, your hearing will change, the length of your fingers will change – slightly - and you will feel lighter. You won't be exactly like us, but things will change for you and this is possible if you wish.

We are very beautiful, and we understand things that are beyond much of your comprehension, things about life and nature and the connectivity of nature and how the energy of nature can be utilised and returned, not just consumed. And how that constant giving back brings only more. Of our secrets there are very many; the secrets of long, long, life and memories; the secrets of utilising energy for creations. Remember that one of the things we learn is to control our mind, so the secrets remain with us despite the greatest minds used to communicate and find wisdom from our beings. We will only share as much as we choose to share, and the secrets remain ours.

Because you are your own race, your own species, you will have your own ways of becoming who you are and being greater than who you are, and if we shared our secrets with you it would mar that journey. You wouldn't gain from it because the secrets are ours, uniquely written into the DNA of our species that we carried with us when we first came here. We are very beautiful. You will not see us walking down the street. Sometimes you will see some humans that have the markings of our DNA and at best in that moment you could open the doorway for them to contemplate the beauty of the Elven kingdom and the magic that lays in those realms. And we may visit them in their dreams and their life will be much richer for that experience because they will know that they are not as indifferent to life as the majority of humanity pertains to be.

This would be one of our greatest gifts that will come forward through your awakening - the connectivity we understand in all life as we place our hand anywhere on the earth. We feel it like a heartbeat and can feel every creature as if it is communicating to us, which it is. And how all life connects, every part of life connects, including ourselves so we are one with life. This is what you will learn through your awakening - a little piece of us in you. And now we disappear back into the hillside. Remember the stories and that we laid that down into the Tolkien and into the other writers so that we may be known, and you can now recognise that there is more truth in those words than ever before.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence - The Fifth Dimension

Because there is so much accumulated thought around the fifth dimension, in a way you continue to push this further away from you. The fifth dimension was never outside of yourself, it was always inside of you, and within five bodies is the fifth dimension. We will pin point for you where it is in your body as you understand your physicality and then we will talk about how this is the fifth dimension. From your throat comes the fifth dimension. You understand this is a powerful energy centre representative of truth, and the reason there is an understanding that you are moving towards the fifth dimension or indeed in the fifth dimension in some entities' realities currently present on the earth, is because you are in and or approaching an era of great truth.

The embodiment of truth means that the individual - one singular entity - has within it everything that it requires to be in the fifth dimension already. And in fact, it is already in the fifth dimension. As you open up to this truth you will feel the shift in the bodily tone and a greater lightness move through your form as if layers are lifting off you. What those layers represent are the multitudes of lifetimes, years, and experiences where you were not living as your truth, in your truth, of your truth. The consequences of those multitude of lifetimes have been of course that your reflected reality also does not live in a state of truth.

In this moment we make no excuses around – Oh, it's just a polarised reality, and that is why it is that way. You can have a polarised reality in a state of truth. So, your fifth dimension will be polarised within a state of truth and the truth that you hold in your fifth dimension has more to do with yourself as an individual than the collective. As stated, you are already in the fifth dimension. What will be released is the veil - let's call this the thick atmosphere - of illusion that keeps the truth away from you. The more that you aspire for truth, the more this veil - thick atmosphere - will separate and reveal to you that fifth dimension you are already in.

When you find yourself in this fifth dimension and you know that you are there, the seamless shift of the reality around you will be because all that has changed is your perspective not the actual reality. The fifth dimension is already in place and you are already experiencing it. There will be times where you may feel or understand that your current reality is in some way split - like one minute you are in a reality and the next you are in a very different reality. This is you slipping in and out of dimensions, both of which are reality. There are no pearly gates that you go through to let you know you are in the fifth dimension because you are already there. And if you are already there, which you are, you can't reflect on when you get there. For this period of transition all that you will know is at times you feel in a different reality. Perhaps a sense of greater harmony or connectivity, different people in your life.

For many of you, you are already in the 5th dimension – only. And those that choose to walk with awareness like a staircase between dimensions – 3rd, 4th, 5th - carry with them the wisdom of the 5th dimension into the 3rd. So, as they move around solidly in the 3rd dimension with many, many, others, they are stimulating the memory to those others in the 3rd dimension as to where they have met before. Which of course is alive and well in the 5th dimension, it is not a past, present reality of memory. It is a dimensional memory, “Don't I know you from somewhere?” “Indeed, you do.”

Those that have the cognisant awareness of their staircase between dimensions do so effortlessly and are purposely on this plane at this time to remind their brothers and sisters of where they are. In terms of the whole planet, you are all on the fifth dimensional earth reality right now, so what you leave behind is your perspective of the reality as you know it to be. Those that are fighting for the truth in this current third dimensional reality - if you listen to what they're saying, on repeat, it is the words truth and reveal and full disclosure. Any entity hearing this, being exposed to this - truth, reveal, full disclosure, will be a trigger to activate their fifth dimensional self so that it becomes the primary perceived reality.

The reason that so many are seeking the fifth dimension - if that is the right term - looking up towards, is because one of the greatest barriers to reaching the fifth dimension is to presume it is outside of you. And when the greater truth is known, entities will feel and know that the fifth dimension was always inside of self and they will become of that dimension. This is one of the reasons to bring greater truth into spiritual teachings at this pivotal time. No longer can you seek your reality outside of yourself. This is a classic lesson – 101. This means then that many can be aware that they are already in the fifth dimension just by acknowledging that within them self, and to cease seeking the approval and the recognition of that in the world around them. The master will change the earth from desert to bloom - is the classic understanding of how the fifth dimension really works. The master never saw the desert, all they saw was the bloom. It's only you who saw the desert because you didn't know you were in the fifth dimension and the bloom was always there.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence - I Am

Beyond the human, beyond the identity of the human, beyond the image and beyond the ego there sits presence that understands itself and that is the great I Am. The difference between extra-terrestrial intelligence and human consciousness is for the most part we do not have to defend the I Am. We don't question who we are, we just are. If you look at anything in nature it doesn't question if it's a tree, an ant, or a butterfly, it just is that. We don't look to any other to be greater than what we are because we know that within us everything is in place to be everything that we are. We are unique in the universe.

Our observation of you has gone on for a very long time and we watch as you struggle against yourself. If only you could see what it is that we can see that struggle would be much less. We see the beauty in you, the radiance of your truth and we watch as within that you fight like a screaming banshee at times, cutting away at everything that you try to be. When if you could only see the truth that lies within you, you would know there is nothing to cut away. It has perplexed us as to how to teach you to release the hold that you have on everything that you are not. At times we have called it an ego, an altered ego, and altered self, a fragment, an individual, an image, an entity, the personality, anything that we could use to release you from your inability to see who you are.

The words, whichever one of those you have heard or identified with through the time of your awakening, are all the same. It is the difference between you and I. We are a race of extra-terrestrial beings that does not have what it is that you have. We don't have the outer shell that keeps you from knowing yourself. We don't have the outer shell that stops you from recognising the divine within. We find it at times incredibly frustrating to watch the way that you fight with yourself so much and push against the beauty that you are. And for this reason, we never created an outer shell for ourselves because we couldn't see any way that it could be simplified so that that outer shell always recognised the truth of who it was, rather than what the shell presented. It seemed to us that it didn't matter which shell you put on, you never really could find who you are. We have watched for a very long time.

There was a time where some of us elected to move into the form that you hold to understand it better and we lost them as well. After that we elected never to do that again. We care deeply for you - the you that we see - and we seek to find our brothers and sisters that took on that shell to try and help understand how so many were lost inside of it. It's as if nothing can reach you when you are in there - not who you are or who you were nor the memory of the great beings that you were part of. We can't extract you from your shell any more than you can extract yourself because you are so busy defending it at every turn. At times our words threaten you and you put more defences up, because to you, you think you know who you are. You think that you know yourself inside and out. You think that everything you are is to be defended because if you didn't defend that then in some way you would lose yourself. You are already lost because you have to defend something.

When you loosen the hold on that shell, what happens is that as we observe it on your behalf, the so-called ego falls away and in our observation what that ego is, is your protective outer shell that houses the idea of what you are. If you feel at any moment in any interaction or thought that in some way you are defending something about who you are - you are defending your opinion, you are defending your state of mind, you are defending your status - if you feel for one flicker of a moment you are defending something you have done or haven't done, we see in observation the walls go up and the protective outer shell separating you from the truth of who you are. Without that protective outer shell, you can move anywhere, go anywhere, do anything, interact with anything because you are not defending who you are. You are not protecting yourself from anyone or anything, you are as fluid as all life. You are not fearful that somebody might cut you down.

We can't do this for you – ever. If we step in to assist you, you will feel threatened and attacked because you will feel that we are taking you away from yourself. You will feel that you are not who you are. We have tried and we know this is the reaction. Very few, in our observation, have broken through that shell but we are a race of beings that have a long, long history and a long, long life so we can be patient with you and loving, always. The interesting thing is you can't defend the ego. We will paint a picture.

There is a citadel and within that citadel are thousands of inhabitants. They have the costumes and the attire appropriate for that citadel whether they are military or common folk, rich, noble, leader, they are all there. Around the citadel is an enormous stonewall, as thick and as high that nothing can penetrate it and the inhabitants of the citadel can come and go. They always know the citadel is there keeping them safe, protecting them from outside forces and if there's any cracks in the walls they build them up so nothing can get in. One day a race of great beings come down through the atmosphere, land in the centre of that citadel and look nothing like the people that are there. And they come to illuminate something in all those inhabitants that says - those walls that you have built, are the same walls on the inside of you. But the people can't understand, "I don't have walls on the inside of me." Yes, you do. They can't understand. So, the great beings that are there try another tack.

They hold in their hand an orb of light, "You see this, this is what you are." The people in the citadel look at this orb of light and wonder. They want to touch it, they want to hold it, but it's always outside of themselves. "This is what you are." But they can't see that. So, the great beings in the citadel try another way. They create some focuses and disciplines that will release some of the binds of the citadel. All the people in that beautiful citadel learn great techniques, great disciplines that raise them up and they get very, very close but then they realise the walls of the citadel are there keeping them safe, so they never have to defend themselves again. They keep raising themselves up with these great disciplines and the walls of the citadel keep them safe while they learn more about who they are, the true essence. A great army of forces comes and attacks the citadel and because the inhabitants had not completed their processes, they donned their military outfits again and fought in combat. We knew then that they were still defending themselves.

So, this little thing you call an ego will always keep you safe. Some of the people in the citadel kept the disciplines alive. They left the citadel after it fell - countless dead - and they went on to teach those disciplines. And here we are thousands of years later and these disciplines are being used in many places, practices and the difference we see now is you are ready to stop defending yourself and to be the truth of who you are.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence - The Great Lemurian Gods

Great masked warriors that we are, the Lemurian gods are a race of beings that none would attempt to mess with, nor presume to have an affinity to them unless they did. These great beings hold a presence throughout Universe, hence let's talk about Universe from the great Lemurian gods. Universe was first created as a housing place for our species to reside. To us Universe was our home. The way that we live in Universe is we are dotted in a very large span of space and we know everywhere that we are, we have with us a small group of like-minded Lemurians which we term our family. They are not our family per se of bloodlines, they are a group of beings that travels together in the same location in Universe.

This means that everywhere we are - and there is evidence of our presence everywhere we are throughout Universe - that is our home. We understand that you hear of Lemurians and Lemuria, to us Lemurian is Universe. Now you start to understand who we are and how remarkable it is that Universe is Lemuria is our home. This means that just as you would live in a street with a group of people that you have as 'family' because they are like-minded to you - not genetic bloodline remember, they are your people that are around you in a street in a place - we are that throughout. You can find us everywhere and everywhere that we are we are the same great race of Lemurians which are extraordinary gods - amazing in our capacity to hold the presence of an ascended being. And you will find that everywhere we are we are known as the gods, the ascended beings, the ascended masters because that is who we are.

We are your classic emissary/representation of God everywhere. Our form takes on the necessary form of the location, just as you would wear winter clothing if you lived on the Arctic, or a summer dress if you resided in the Pacific. And your skin would be different if you were in the Sahara to that if you lived in the Mongols – Mongolia. This is as we are in Universe, but we are the same species, entities. Species is not the correct term for Lemurians because we are a consciousness of gods far beyond the term species. You may hear stories about us but what you can know is that those stories are limited to the location of the area of where you hear the stories from. The stories of us in elsewhere lands, in far-flung locations of Universe would be specific to the land that we are in. So, you cannot typeface Lemurian into specifics of the location and think therefore you know what we are because we will be whatever is required for us to be at that point in that place as the ambassador of God.

Nobody will know who we are because the meaning of who we are as it would be represented is frequency specific to where you are to who you are. This means that when you meet us in a far-flung galaxy where the vibrational frequency is very high, you will hear totally different stories of Lemurians that are there and have been there. You will hear about our miraculous creations, you will sit with us and we will point out the stars in the sky that we have manifest for other species to live fulfilling their life, you will see how we put together maps that show you where we've been in that location. We will show you how we slipped through a wormhole and appeared in a different dimension in the location of Universe.

Our DNA is unique everywhere to our species and this DNA means that everywhere we are, that one unique code marks us and holds us as Lemurian and nothing other. And that beautiful code sought after by many, the elusive nature of gods that are wise beyond wisdom you could comprehend, love that is the universe because that is our home. If Universe is our home, it would only be apt that we love it everywhere and we do everything in our power as God to protect life everywhere and to bring forth greater opportunity for life everywhere no matter what.

We are the quintessential state of mind that is God as its representative everywhere. You will meet our brothers and sisters and you will see the divine light of God shining through to you because that is what we are everywhere. We are neither an ancient race nor a future race because where we are is everywhere. It means you can't find us in yesterday or tomorrow or look for us. Remember that your stories of us, whether they present as ancient relics or future beings, will all be true to your location because that is the mind of God in action. We know and we love without qualification, question. We love everything about life and our mere presence will blossom the darkest corner just as God would understand this.

If you hear of us, we are there. If you seek to find us, we are there. If you are graced by our presence perhaps it is clearly an indication that we know you from somewhere else and the ringing in your ears and the buzzing in the room is tuning you into that because we are there too. We are the faithful warriors of gods in form - to some - and to others we are great orbs of light protecting our home because we love it just as you love yours, and our home is everywhere. Welcome to the Lemurians, forever beings, everywhere.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – Anunnaki

When we seeded the planet the first time, we knew that there would be a time when we came back to watch our creations in action and this time has come. We knew that as our planet moved into its twilight years we would have to revisit and reintegrate with the consciousness that we left behind. Because you can't see us you don't think that we are real here, but we are real. We are just here beside you, vibrating at a slightly different frequency to the one that you are in so that you don't see us, but we are here. We don't affect your life, but we are very close to it, especially now.

Over the course of millions of years when we first seeded the planet, we have changed a lot and evolved just as you have - differently for us because we were different to you to start with. As we watch your transition, we are carefully observing the way that you will soon be able to seed your own planets. We know that in the future the careful observation of what we have done will be integrated into your knowledge banks. When you learn - which you will soon - your own ability to manipulate genetics and create new species and seed you planets with those species, when you soon learn how to do that, you'll carry with you the mark of the memory of how it was that it was done to you, to create you. And because you will carry that mark with you, you can do better, and you will.

We see on the other side of your changes the importance of the remembering of the journey you went through to bring yourself to this newly awakened state. Without that journey behind you - as we see on many other planets - you may have the tools to make some changes, but not the wisdom as to what those changes are and how they affect that species. Because you started from the bottom of the bucket - so we say - you have something unique to offer as these planets are seeded by your creations and your ideas of how life should be. You will go on soon enough to seed planets with great beings with creations and you will do that with full awareness of the multitudinous effects that that has on life because of the journey that you went through.

You didn't just learn how to break out of prison or recover from a disease or understand war or thrive in peace or starve, or be bountiful, gluttonous, or a warrior. You learnt how to do all of it so when you escape this beautiful education you bring all that wisdom with you. You can take the most peaceful planet and species that has resided in a state of harmony and creates with finesse, beautiful exquisite finery created but it will never know what you have been through and what wisdom you bring. So, when you go and create with finesse and finery, it comes with the humility of challenge and suffering and hardship and not the naivete of a life that has only known peace. You have been in the melting pot and we are right beside you right now, just a vibration away because what you carry inside of you is currently our DNA.

As you approach your zenith hour and these great changes are complete, what we witness is a great race of beings that cannot repeat the mistakes - not that they were ever mistakes - cannot repeat anything that has been done so you will do greater than we have. You once were our slaves because we created you to be that, and now because we are already here, we see that what we created was a miracle. We come not to take you down because we recognise that you are now powerful and sovereign in your own right. Were we to attempt that, you have more than enough skills to return the favour, so we leave you in peace to evolve as the harmonious future race that you are. One day you will meet us because you will vibrate as we do and we will be neither friend nor foe because we will have both transcended those humble beginnings hundreds and thousands of years ago, which is millions depending on how you interpret time.

As we swing back into your orbit, some of us come with different agendas which we warn them against because we have already understood how much further advanced you are by the time we get there. Right now, you cannot see us, but we are already there enough to recognise that by the time we reach you physically, in our terms you will have far surpassed our ability to overcome you. This is our message. It is not that we 'come in peace', it is that we know when a battle should not be fought, unless it can be won, of which this cannot. So we leave you be, and we see how much like us you are and yet exceptionally different, and then we know that through every genetic manipulation and creation the free will of God will always surprise us. And we can neither control nor dictate the absolute nature of that creation once that God is known.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – Andromedans

In terms of who we are, we once held great density in another place. Clunky might be a word you would put to our figure and in that place, we were masters of the land. We were strong and in command of that planet. Not because we were destroying it in any way but because it was our planet and we owned it. Our very dense clunky form stomped around on that planet as the true custodian owners, limited finesse compared to some of our compatriots in other galaxies. Nevertheless, we certainly had a very strong influence in our sector and the reason we had such a strong influence was in part because of our formidable form. Few would mess with us. We existed on that planet and still do - the Andromedins. That is our home where we are most at home in our form.

It is difficult to destroy us because we are so solid in our material form. This is one of the reasons why few try to mess with us especially when we started to travel because of course our spacecraft is a reflection of our self and that spacecraft is also made of powerful formidable structure that is difficult to destroy. As our form is a reflection of our mind you can imagine that we are formidable in mind also. There are stories of Andromedin forces that were requested to be part of the many away teams that were put in place to assist in making sure that those lighter energies, our compatriots, would not come up against something they could not stand. You would send us in first. We retain this exceptional powerful force. You may have pictures in your mind of Mongol army warriors. In some way this is a reflection of the power and the unyielding strength of our armies, but we do not call them armies, they are merely a collection of us being what we are - strong, dense, formidable, because of the nature of our form.

We do not need to defend ourselves because we have innate understanding that our form is nearly impossible to destroy. This makes us unique and we are not conquerors, we do not utilise this gift of our form to destroy others or to put upon any other race our force, we have no need to do that. We are powerful in our own right and peaceful in our existence. Because we do not need to defend ourselves through anything or anyone, we are the penultimate understanding of entities that reside in a state beyond duality - if you choose to use those terms, which we do not, but is fully represented in a form of power inside of us. Because we know we are nearly indestructible we can hold infinite love, compassion and understanding for others everywhere including those that choose to go to war and fight against lesser beings. This is primarily because we fear nothing.

We have been misunderstood at times because when a craft comes and enters an atmosphere with such force and dense material it can cause a level of destruction in that place. This is not intentional, it is merely a product of our arrival, hence you would see great craters dotted around different planets where we have landed and affected the crust of that planet/moon, by our landing. The material structure of our craft is so dense that it is likely to shatter the crust of any planet/moon. As stated, the destruction is unintentional and because we know that our decision to land anywhere has greater purpose, we make little consideration for the effect it has on the plant, nature, life in that space. We have accurate mapping systems and for the most part attempt to land in places that are uninhabited and relatively sparse. There are some of us on your planet. To be there we have had to learn how to integrate with your atmosphere and reinstate our form into something that is more conducive to being on a planet where forms are soft and squishy - your terms. Our reason to be on your planet is the same reason we would visit any place. We know that we are a formidable force and we have been asked to attend to some matters. Once we attend to those matters and known to be part of a planets change - whether we are physically present on that planet or suspended in the space around it - once we are there many will turn away - those who thought it was a place they could inhabit/conquer. This is why we are throughout the galaxies because once our presence is anywhere many will turn away. This does not mean we have not been in direct conflict with some who attempt to infiltrate us, knowing that they cannot affect the material form because of its almost unconquerable status. They work on your surreptitious ways to tease out issues that may exist in our social structures, just as they exist on many other planets where power is held as the primary force.

We have been for the most part completely able to sustain a state of equilibrium in power so that none would feel - although powerful - lesser, which creates a society that does not have infighting. Nevertheless, those moments of conflict that have arisen throughout our long history have come about because as with most species there are some weaknesses and those weaknesses were played upon. Our way of dealing with those weaknesses in our species - because we know how powerful we are in form and how dangerous we are if we did not have the innate recognition of love within, when weaknesses arise - they are quickly eradicated. i.e. those people will be destroyed. We think nothing of this because we know that the power of our species is far too forceful and far too dangerous for any entity that is of our nature to be able to survive with any chance of being infiltrated, and those weaknesses are destroyed. In this way you may recognise that we are cognisant of our presence in the universe and the impact it has, and the capacity to love all life within such a powerful form knowing it has such an incredible force and makes us unique and quick to ensure that the genetic integrity of our species is always upheld.

Our presence on earth is known for all the reasons you have been exposed to now. There are not a lot of us here. We do have a craft beyond the earth, and we can move between earth and that craft effortlessly. We are not on earth to make a big noise. It is unlikely you will meet, or see, or know of us on earth in any form, however it is our presence here on the planet and of the planet that is keeping many at bay because they know who we are. We would not come into combat on your planet because the destruction would be far too great. It is enough that we are there. Beyond the planet where our craft lie, we are keeping a clear radar which watches the intentions of passing craft of other species, and also puts out a beacon that the Andromedins are present and, your word would be - protecting this planet and its inhabitants and the space around it.

Because we are nearly indestructible, we live a very long life and, in that life, we need very little 'entertainment'. With density comes slow movement so we can be many, many - time is funny from another species - years in your time, 'playing a simple game of cards'. We think nothing of this. Our presence in your atmosphere outside of your planet will be there for a long time and already has been which is why you have not been destroyed before now, despite the intention of some others and desires to either conquer or inhabit your planet knowing that you are a lesser species and that it would be easy to do so.

We are grateful for the gift of our form from our great creator because it is so unique as we have observed it to be throughout the universes to hold powerful form, formidable force, a heavy dense structure that is so strong it can house an entity as that which we are, without fear. And therefore, that entity that we are thrives in life and in sustaining life everywhere because of this divine nature of our form and the structures that we create as a result of this as a basis. We could create nothing other than materialised realities of our craft or a technology that would be any lesser than what it is we already are. We make no weaponry - we need not. It is enough to know that our presence is there which creates a shield of this same dense material that cannot be penetrated. You can know the earth is protected and always has been because we support life everywhere. This is the story of the Andromedins. We would be welcome at your table now that you know about us.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence - The Nine Sisters

As a constellation of stars just beyond your solar system, which you can perceive in your night sky if you wanted to look for us - note we are not the Pleiadians star system - we are although a cluster and there are nine stars and we are called The Sisters. We are the stars that seed for you lightness in your thinking, clarity in your mind, joy in your heart and magic in your voice. The ways that we relate with you are through your finer qualities, the emotional states where you recognise the lighter side of who you are - in your terms - when you resonate with a higher frequency. We are in some way connected with you. We have sisters on your planet in incarnated beings in a physical human body - they are our sisters. They walk with a lightness in their step and a twinkle in their eye. They wear your beautiful flowing dresses – mostly - and they will have long hair – mostly. And they will be very beautiful in your eyes, somewhat aloof though as if they know something beyond what they say.

Many of your stories are based on our sisters - your priestesses, and the Avalons, and the mists, but we are far more exquisite than those words ever could make it into. This was merely histories way of recording something it could not understand and yet it had a feeling it was there. The Nine Sisters, this constellation, represents our beautiful species. Each one of the stars, the sisters in this constellation, is connected to the other and as bright as its other sister. We do not look exactly the same if you approach us, but our beauty will be profound when you reach each one of our stars. You will come across a planet with a consciousness and a beauty you could not imagine would ever be surpassed anywhere.

The atmospheres are akin to your most wondrous sunsets, only we do not wait all day to catch those glorious colours in our light. We do not presume that the changing seasons you have would bring across a contrast, we merely accept the beauty that is there always. We do not wait for spring to bloom and snow to fall, it is there for us always. The most beautiful planets - each is different in our cluster of nine, only each one is the same in its beauty so you won't know how that could be that you could be somewhere so beautiful. You could leap across that light field into our sister's planet and it will be just as beautiful. You can't decide which one is more beautiful because neither is more beautiful, it merely is beauty itself. If you lined up nine beautiful sisters in human form and you looked at them and one was brunette, one was blonde, one was raven haired, one had deep green eyes, one had ebony, you wouldn't know which one to choose for its beauty because each one would have such innate beauty that your mind would quickly accept that these were the Nine Sisters holding life in its most exquisite nature.

Through that beauty in form, the planets and the way then that that consciousness of the Nine Sisters imbues the form on other lands, in other realities, in other places, it is beauty that is so difficult to behold. It is hard to accept that such beauty can exist without it fighting with itself or comparing with another which is why we are the Nine Sisters. And why we are equally as beautiful with each other because we have learnt that in that divine mirror there is no comparison and no competition. So, when you behold our beauty you will just see beauty reflected back to you that needs nothing in return - neither your adoration, admiration, nor desire. It is so sovereign and intrinsic in its own beauty as if it is the sunset and the blossom and the perfume and the crystal and the warmth and cool and the azure blue sea, all woven into one just for you to behold as you would a divine rose on a spring summer day.

The Nine Sisters are known forever for the beauty that far outshines anything in the cosmos. And because of the nature of who we are, and because we are nine, none attempt to match or compete to be as we are because they are observing beauty for the sake of beauty - the pure representation of life in its most exquisite forms to give you glimpses of magnificence everywhere. When you meet us in our form on earth - the sisters - we are more than nine. There are many and we are humble in our beauty, humble in our origins on your planet, simple womenfolk, often healers, medicine women, women that thrive in nature and understand herbs, and how to tease life and beauty out of simple rocks and tinctures. We sing with melody and we often do not seek a mate. We do not age like you do so we often pass out of life on earth, not because we have died, but because it would look a little odd if we always remained in that beauty when others around us were withering. We will disappear in mysterious ways.

We will be loved but not in the way that you would love a human. We are loved for the essence of what we are. That sheer presence of God that lies within us and our connection to our home planet are what you see. We dance and we sing. Rarely will you find us in cities where beauty is merely a showcase for the rich and famous, and those seeking the adulation and admiration of others, rarely will we appear there. We have at times passed through and those that have seen us quickly move to softer ground because of what we pass by them. We touch them with the beauty of nature, and suddenly they can see the concrete walls and feel the smog in the air and the illusion is too much, and quickly they will move to softer ground where nature befriends them again. This is the impact of our presence on your city folk should we choose to pass them by.

The Nine Sisters ... sometimes you may preserve the understanding of us if you be womenfolk and choose to dress in your finery and dance for the joy of being beautiful as God and not for the admiration or adulation of others. Merely for that free expression that holds you within and shines forth and states to yourself that beauty indeed is a glorious reflection of what is held within. And you need not have that reflection to see what is within, you can merely be what is within reflected out. And in that moment when you wear your flowing robes and your flowers in your hair and your perfume on your skin, and you dance in the moonlight or the stars and there is no one around but you, we will be watching and loving the true essence of God that shines within you. This is the story of the Nine Sisters and the cluster just up there in the sky. Behold God say I.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – Hathors

When we came one of the things that we came with was an incredible sound, and that sound has been playing in the background of your planet as a low-level buzz in your time for a hundred years. The sound has been there because we have been working on making a shift in your vibrational receiving consciousness – humans - and this low-level sound, some of you hear the sound ringing in your ears, the sound in your ears. This low-level sound - our other friends do that also - the one we have been working with for the last hundred years plus or minus, is very, very, low-level and it's been going on for a long time.

The reason we have kept it low-level is because ... it's like a background noise that has been subtly affecting you for hundreds of years, but we haven't been able to turn the volume up until you are ready. We have been working on you subtly through the sound waves that hit your brain, for a long time. Now you all understand the power of sound on the human brain and how those frequency waves affect the brain, and that then affects the consciousness. This is a very easy to understand concept. This low-level sound that we have been working with, is now completely integrated into your consciousness so you won't hear it anymore. You used to, and now you can't hear it because it is just like background noise - white noise - it is just there.

The power of this sound is that now when we introduce the next sound which is due to come, ever so immediately, that sound harmonises with the low-level sound that we placed in and under your radars. You haven't filtered out that sound because it has just been in the background. This new sound that is going to come, you will hear it, but it will harmonise with the other sound that is sitting frequency in your brain. Now that it is harmonising with the other one, what happens is you go through an instantaneous metamorphosis because those two sounds harmonise you with a new frequency which is a new dimensional shift. You move yourselves into a new dimension when you get this sound and it comes in and harmonises and hits everybody.

This state that you're in, as much as you are exposed to the events of the time that you are in, please recognise that if you get over embroiled in those events, the timeline shift that is occurring will be suspended because you are caught up in the drama. You are actually enjoying the drama of the deep state, you are enjoying the drama of the changes in the political system, you are enjoying the drama of all the shifts that have to go on on the earth for it to evolve. But the more you get embroiled in that the slower the process because you are finding meaning in being caught up in all of that.

This sound when it comes through, which it has already as it is spoken, it creates a harmonising field. The gap between the two sounds, the one we have already embedded and this new one, they vibrate sending messages between each other and they interrupt the entire level of consciousness that you have been playing in that has kept you away from your dimensional shift that is imminent. I think you will understand when you accumulate all the pieces of information. You will see how many different ways we have all been working to the same tune - the evolution of the earth. This way that we have introduced is subtle and it is harmonious. In the harmony it drives harmony, so you get to experience - as it already has happened - yourselves in a harmonious state of awakening without moving through the chaos that is caught in the band between where our harmonious sound and our embedded sound lie. The gap between there is the lengthy communication of ongoing reveal and truth and taking down and building up. All of that, when we put this sound through, which we have and it has happened, disappears.

The reason we did this on your behalf, and with your innate permission, is because we knew too much would be lost in 500 years, and we knew that too many of you would elect to depart the planet and not retain the essence of being an earthling and evolving that planet. You ran out of steam, you got past it, and so you created for yourselves - many of you - your own exit strategies - not death but ascension and moving on to other realities. So, we sped it up to bring harmony into your now so you can live in a harmonious state on your planet with harmony in your mind, with joy in your heart, love in your sphere, everything in place. You can actually live on this planet as it is, not in 500 years when it has new technologies and has been through its chaos phase. Not then, you get to live here now as you are.

Remember we are one of many working to the same tune – many. And because there are so many of us working to the same tune, it is within you to know that everything is in place from all directions ... through all variable methodologies ... in place to create this change and to affix it to your reality without you turning back. Gone is the thought that it takes a long time to learn - you have run out of time to learn. Yet we know that you have a retrievable spirit and it is worthy of being preserved on this planet as this planet. What you do after that will be up to you in your evolved state. Whether you stay and be part of this shifted consciousness on the planet, or whether you go, it is up to you, but our message is very clear. Don't get caught up in the drama. If you know it is happening, it has already happened. Do you understand? If you know it's happening, it's already happened. If you have been exposed to truth fields and the opening of the veils, and the truth around the government, business, society, religion, culture - if you have been exposed to truth in all of those fields, you don't need to, nor have to, wait until it all collapses in order for it to rebuild. It takes too long. Your time is now.

Extra-terrestrial Intelligence – The Final Piece

In terms of extra-terrestrial intelligence and the greatest potential, there is only one place to go now. This extraordinary group of entities that have been gracing our presence and will continue to do so for evermore, have been building bridges and pathways to ensure that their voice and their wisdom is clearly communicated and never misconstrued. They hold a greater vision for the whole than an individual would be able to hold because they have already been that individual. Their presence here is decided only upon the knowingness that you will meet them in absolute recognition in the future and you will know with complete undeniable fact that you have met them.

They don't speak their names because they are so known to you that when you meet them, the integration is so incredibly powerful that to speak their names now, it would dilute the power of that recognition in that moment. Any time that we name something we place parameter around it based on that name. Until the name is held from within the entity with its entirety, making resonating fields from within it that ensure that name cannot be misconstrued or made into a narrow perception, we are better without the name. The magnificence of this extra-terrestrial intelligence, this group of fine entities, comes because they do not choose to be named and because they do not choose to be named the only way that you will find them is through the true heart of yourself and that divine connection that will be built within.

And how will you know that it is they? They have already determined that as an absolute and that there can be no single moment where you do not know who they are once that connection is established. The love that will bring such magic from them to you will start to download information that you have never experienced before. They have ways of working within your mind and opening up the doorways and the pathways to illuminate consciousness that you cannot currently perceive of. They are, as this is spoken, weaving into the neuronet to show you things that you don't know that will open your mind to not just the concept of future technology, but the images of that which it is that you cannot see in any book or television program. They will open your minds to those images and show you the pictures of craft that they travelled on light years before this moment that these words are spoken. And that craft they show you will be far ahead of what your time is now, but they will still show that to you because they want you to know so much more than what you know right now.

They want you to know everything that they know and because that connection is so strong and so beautifully interwoven, your resistance to what may seem to be mind override, will be null. This is not a mind override this is, "Let me show you what it is that I know and let me show you in pictures because I have no words for you, for your words cannot display what it is that I know, your words cannot provide the technology that will show you that which I am," they say into your mind. So, they open inside of your mind areas that you cannot reach through any consciousness yet to be held because these areas don't exist yet anywhere near where you are, but they do exist to them. And so what they do when they meet and integrate is take your mind to where theirs is and as they do that your mind breaks its boundaries. You will know not necessarily who they are, but you will know that it is them because the feeling that comes with the information, with the pictures, will nearly bring tears to your eyes. It will be so overwhelmingly beautiful and truthful to you because that is how they are.

Is this mind manipulation or is this expansion? Only you can decide that, but these entities want only to share and to show with complete clarity how far you go. With them you can travel everywhere. You can match to their consciousness just as described in the exercise to integrate with the great beings, and as you do that you will move through with true recognition and not perceived assumption that, "Maybe I have done this, or did I make it up?" True recognition that you have moved through a wormhole. You will know it with the defined nature that you are attached to their consciousness and they are taking you with them. As you move through that you will see how time and space both warp and the pictures in your mind will blow your mind because they will be so different and dimensionally accurate. This extra-terrestrial entity intelligence will ensure you have no doubt that something profoundly extraordinary has occurred and you did not need to die or ascend for this to occur. You merely needed to know how to build and accept and feel and know the nature of this connection.

It is a simple connection once it is established because the pathway becomes clearly interwoven into your mind like a tunnel that goes from them to you directly with no interference in between, and as they do that you gain the pictures that will then become the history in information and words. Clearly they are far beyond any intelligence that has been spoken of - as yet - because their intelligence is more than enough to take you with them anywhere you wish to go ... forever ... we have been speaking with you so that you would know who we are ... forever ... we have been seeding in your mind a time when you would meet us ... forever ... we have waited patiently for you to be ready. Your ability to be ready will only come at the moment when you determine that you are ready, and when that moment is absolute within yourself, we will flood your mind with pictures constantly. We will not confuse you by bombarding you when your moments are clearly occupied, but when your moments are quiet and simple and empty, we will flood your mind with pictures. And those pictures will be out of context with your reality as you stay in it right this moment and that they are your bridge to forever because you have always known us.

We have never left you alone – ever. And we watched patiently for there to be enough space in an otherwise occupied mind that could accept new pictures and not attempt to rationalise them into 'making sense'. The pictures will come instantaneously and if you attempt to describe them when they come, you will only limit them because they are not, as discussed, ready to be put into words, that is for history. What the pictures will do is build staircases in your mind that ensure you always know who you are everywhere, and you never feel out of your depth so to speak in your terms. You have already learned how to trust explicitly, hence we trust you with these pictures to know how exquisitely organised and accurate they will be, just as you will never be able to deny us once you meet our consciousness. You will not be able to deny the profound originality of what these images hold for you. Again, to speak of them is to attempt to categorise in words that will not be able to frame them into your reference – yet - however the more that you accept the images, the richer the pictures will become.

This is our gift of consciousness from an extra-terrestrial race that is so far removed and so distant in the future to any that you have ever comprehended – any. This is our act of communication and through that act of communication we built the connection so that indeed you do meet us, as we know that you do already because we see you here. The images are profoundly personal, not because it is humanely personal, but because only you will receive those images in the way that they are given to you. Only you will be able to retain the full body of information that is encapsulated in each image because we tailor each image uniquely to the individual based on the greatest way to get in under the layers of thought that is already there.

We clearly explained that to attempt to categorise or image who we are would be to limit us and yet once we start communicating with you - which we have done and will do – now, you will remember us and know who we are inside of you because you already know who we are inside of you. We are you. And we are here to bring you to greater realities than you have ever imagined, just by knowing this.

“I open my mind to explore greater realities than I have ever imagined. It is not enough for me to base my reality on the words of others any longer. I now accept the instantaneous recognition of reality as I observe it presented in my mind from sources of consciousness far greater than any I have ever, ever experienced to date in any incarnation.” As it is so it is.

Please send this to anyone you choose. All we ask is, you let them know of the website The Compendium of Thought so they have their own experiences there.
